YOUR COUNCIL on Philanthropy

The Council on Philanthropy was founded in 1976 to provide educational and networking opportunities for fundraisers. As the need grew for other nonprofit staff, funders, community volunteers and for-profit business partners to access similar opportunities, the Council stepped forward to fill the void.

Today, the Council is the primary education, information and relationship-building resource for the people and organizations that sustain Greater Kansas City’s vital nonprofit sector.

COLLABORATION

Programs sponsored by the Council provide structured opportunities to learn, share information and coordinate strategies to address community needs.

FUNDERS FORUM & GRANTMAKERS EXCHANGE

CELEBRATION

Celebrating excellence in philanthropy and working with the media to share our sector’s messages with the public are important roles for the Council.

MEDIA RELATIONS

“In addition to providing terrific networking opportunities, the Council has assisted me in gaining knowledge and tools that have been critical to my successful involvement in the nonprofit community.”

Nonprofit Professional — Gregory Glore
(Director of Development, National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA))

“My membership in the Council and participation in their programs, trade shows and events allows me to learn about issues facing my nonprofit clients so I am better equipped to meet their needs.”

For-profit Business Partner — Pat Smithson (Account Manager, Z3 Graphix)

“Though I have been an active nonprofit volunteer for years, the Council has provided me a wealth of information, contacts and interaction with others working and volunteering in the sector that I had previously not experienced.”

Community Volunteer — Greg German
(Board Member, Will to Succeed Foundation)
